Young Hood Legally Dead.

Arcoia, Ill., June 11.—John Hood, long-lost heir to a portion of a $200,000 estate of his father, James Hood, of this city, has returned to Arcoia after an absence of fourteen years, during which the Douglas County Court declared him to be legally dead and consented to his share of his father's property being paid to his wife and children.

J. R. Beggs, of Arcoia, was administrator of the estate and he refused to accept John's supposed death as a fact, requiring that he be furnished with a bond, approved by the court, to protect himself in case the missing heir should return.

Young Hood is not inclined to be comminatory regarding his whereabouts during his long absence.

DELEGATES BACK WITH GROUCHES

Hogan Takes Final Fling at Brown—Miller Says
"I'm Through."

Probably the most unhappy six politicians in the United States returned to Washington last night, following many strenuous days and nights in Chicago, where they sought in vain for seats on the floor of the Republican National convention, as delegates representing the District of Columbia.

The unhappy ones are Robert I. Miller, and his running mate, W. Calvin Chase; Aaron Bradshaw and Charles Marshall, and Frank J. Hogan and E. J. Williston. All returned to their homes utterly disgusted.

"No more for me. I'm out of politics," was the way Robert I. Miller expressed himself, when asked about the charges and counter-charges which resulted in the District failing to get any representation at all. "I'm through. I hope I never see another ballot box."

Frank J. Hogan, whose ticket received 5,000 votes in the primary, was frankly wrathful.

Lost Out on Fluke.
"Willie and I would have been seated but for a fluke," he said. "We lost before the credentials committee by a vote of 23 to 20. Two members of that committee, one from Oklahoma, the other from California, got mixed up on the motion and voted against us when they thought they were giving us a seat. Why, they even came up to me and congratulated me immediately after balloting."

"The disgrace of the District of Columbia being the only territory of the United States not represented on the floor of the convention, can be laid at the door of Chapin Brown. After Miller, Bradshaw and myself had appeared before the committee and stated our claims, he made a personal appeal to the committee, being careful, however, to wait until the contestants had all departed to seat Miller and Chase. If only to back him up. One of the committee members told me this immediately after it happened. But the committee turned Mr. Chapin Brown down flatly."

"Now, I am thankful to say, Mr. Brown is no longer a National Committeeman, and the District of Columbia will never be represented, or rather, misrepresented by him again. He has eliminated himself forever."

Miss Mary Zurborn, principal of the National School of Domestic Arts and Sciences, has offered a scholarship to the graduating class at Eastern High School.

Miss Helen Gray Rankin, of this city, a freshman at Butler College, has been appointed to a position in the Indianapolis Public Library.

Mrs. Charles B. Howry, wife of Judge Howry, of the Court of Claims, is sojourning at the Mountain Park Hotel, at Hot Springs, N. C. She celebrated her birthday Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald L. Parsons will live at 15 East Meirrose street, Chevy Chase, Md., for the summer.

Miss Nina Tilford Cameron, daughter of Lieut.-Col. George H. Cameron, U. S. A., recently returned from Panama where she visited her uncle and aunt, Capt. and Mrs. James F. Tilford, at Corozal, Canal Zone.

The Misses Scriven, daughters of Brig.-Gen. George P. Scriven, U. S. A., will leave for Panama shortly, where they are to be the guests of Maj. and Mrs. Charles McK. Saltzman, at Ancon.

Mrs. Harry Taylor and children expect to leave the city on June 15 for Cape May, N. J.

A diving suit made of aluminum alloy is one of the latest inventions. It is said to salvage work at extraordinary depths. They have, for example, already used the new armor at a depth of 212 feet, and there are possibilities of deeper descents.

Nature Often Needs
Help to Hold Health
The first requirement is to offer something that will not harm the sufferer by poisoning the system or creating a habit-appetite that may lead to a worse condition.

That is one reason why Eckman's Alternative, for more than twenty years a successful treatment in pulmonary, asthmatic and bronchial troubles, has attained success.

It is absolutely safe to take. It contains nothing to poison one or induce a habit. Yet its combination of calcium chloride is such that most persons can assimilate it easily.

If you are suffering from the serious effects of a neglected cold or in the grip of a deep-seated pulmonary infection, a trial is worth while.
